New York energy efficiency incentives

According to the NYC Mayor"s Office of Sustainability, improving building energy efficiency could reduce the city"s total emissions by over 20%. That"s why the city has enacted robust regulations under the Climate ...

New York"s solar incentives in 2025 make it one of the best years to go solar in the state. With tax credits, cash rebates, and utility bill savings, the return on investment is better than ever.

Residential Clean Energy Credit Ending December 31, 2025 The federal solar tax credit is ending sooner than expected. Here"s what homeowners must do to qualify before the 2025 deadline.

The One Big Beautiful Bill Act (OBBBA), signed July 4, 2025, significantly modifies key provisions of the Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). While corporate energy tax credits remain mostly intact, ...

Rebates, Incentives, and Energy Efficiency Programs Many states and local utilities offer rebates or tax incentives for installing energy-efficient heat pump water heaters. These rebates can ...

You have not previously received an incentive from Con Edison, NYSERDA, or another energy company for the same measure (s). If your building is part of the New York State Affordable Multifamily Energy Efficiency Program ...

Additionally, effective June 26, 2023, all EVSE sold in New York must be certified with ENERGY STAR V1.0 (April 2017) or V1.2 energy efficiency standards, per the Advanced Building Codes, Appliance and Equipment ...

Following its approval by Congress, the One Big Beautiful Bill Act was signed by President Donald Trump on July 4, 2025. This Holland & Knight alert summarizes certain key proposals in the ...

Typical rebates include: $50-$150 per PTAC unit from utilities in California, New York, Massachusetts, and Florida Incentives for certified installation or larger projects--often used in hotels or multi-unit housing Use ENERGY STAR"s ...

The legislation would get rid of Biden-era federal tax incentives that made solar and wind projects more affordable, and kills residential tax incentives for homeowners making energy efficiency upgrades.

Illinois environmentalists have been pushing for the Clean and Reliable Grid Affordability Act, which would expand energy efficiency in Illinois and encourage renewable energy projects.

Web: https://ichipcorp.co.za