

?Nature Climate Change????????,????????SCI????????,????????? "?NAT CLIM CHANGE?"
???????? ?????????????? ...

Bahrain is actively implementing initiatives to protect the environment and combat climate change. Key strategies include National Environment Day and the National Water Strategy, promoting ...

Designating February 4 each year as Bahrain's National Environment Day translates the nation's strong commitment to maintaining a clean, healthy, and sustainable environment that aligns ...

The Kingdom has also made tangible progress in joining global efforts to confront the climate change crisis, and to promote the values of a green environment and sustainable development.

The top U.N. court on Wednesday described climate change as an "urgent and existential threat", as it handed down a landmark ruling on the legal obligations of countries to prevent it. "The ...

The UN's principal judicial body ruled that States have an obligation to protect the environment from greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions and act with due diligence and cooperation to fulfill this ...

Turkey has passed its first "far from ideal" climate law even as the country is racked by a heatwave that has caused widespread wildfires. The new law introduces the first legally ...

The Kingdom of Bahrain, with its strategic and geographical location, climate, and environmental conditions, is characterized by the presence of most of the good climatic, natural, terrestrial ...

Human-caused climate change made the recent European heatwave up to 4°C hotter in many cities, scientists said, pushing temperatur­es into deadly territory for thousands of vulnerable ...

Bahrain is making significant strides in environmental protection, climate action, and sustainable development through a series of robust national policies, international collaborations, and ...

