

CEER is the voice of energy regulators in Europe. Our main priority is to get the voice of national regulators heard at the EU level, and act as a bridge between national regulators and EU...

Riyadh, February 06, 2025, SPA -- Ceer has announced the signing of a SAR 543 million (USD 145 million) partnership agreement with Sabelt, an Italian company specializing in the design and manufacturing of high ...

? What Is EnergyStar and Why Should You Care? EnergyStar certification is awarded to appliances that meet strict energy-efficiency guidelines set by the EPA and DOE. As of 2025, TTW units must meet: CEER  $\geq$  10.3 for units ...

When choosing a window air conditioner, look for models with high CEER (Combined Energy Efficiency Ratio) ratings--ideally 11.0 or higher--since they indicate better energy use. Units ...

? Why Efficiency Ratings Matter Energy-efficient PTACs aren't just better for the planet--they're better for your wallet, too. Benefits of Higher EER/CEER: Lower monthly utility bills Better ...

Raphael Hanoteaux is deputy secretary general at the Council of European Energy Regulators (CEER). Prior to that, he was senior policy advisor at Brussels-based energy think tank E3G, ...

Riyadh, February 13, 2025, SPA -- Ceer, Saudi Arabia's first electric vehicle (EV) brand and original equipment manufacturer (OEM), today announced 11 new partnerships worth SAR5.5 billion (approximately $1.5 ...

A joint ACER-CEER paper (June 2024) was published, identifying five key challenges for the electricity system. Continued monitoring Member States' delays in implementing harmonised ...

Look for CEER and EER numbers above 12.0 to ensure optimal efficiency, with higher ratings indicating better performance. ENERGY STAR certification provides third-party verification that ...

CEER guidelines

Web: <https://ichipcorp.co.za>

