

The Federation of Renewable Energy Developers (FRED) has issued an urgent warning to the Sri Lankan government, stating that recent policy decisions -- particularly a sharp revision in feed ...

New Zealand's Energy Gamble: Is Gas the Only Way Out of the Blackout Blues? Okay, let's be blunt: New Zealand's energy situation is less "Kiwi charm" and more "full-blown crisis." The ...

New York, July 2 - A new study published today shows that coupling renewable energy targets with supportive development policies and investments would have major financial benefits. ...

Solar and wind are now the cheapest sources for new electricity generation in almost every country. Last year, renewables accounted for over 90 percent of new power additions. This ...

Global utilities generated a record amount of clean electricity while cutting output from fossil fuels during the opening half of 2025, thereby maintaining the momentum of international efforts to ...

Kuwait's Power Crisis and Renewable Energy Transition As one of the energy giants in the Gulf region, Kuwait is currently facing increasing internal challenges - growing electricity demand ...

Douglas McIntyre, Editor-in-Chief at Climate Crisis 24/7, highlights a Guardian report on UN discussions emphasizing that renewable energy is now predominantly cheaper than fossil fuels. The UN ...

Are renewable energy sources helping alleviate the energy crisis in Cuba? While renewable sources like solar energy provide some relief, their contribution is limited and insufficient to significantly reduce the structural deficit.

At this point in time there are several possible alternatives to face the energy situation, both renewable and non-renewable, when it comes to more energy-efficient and easy-on-the-grid ...

Douglas McIntyre, Editor-in-Chief at Climate Crisis 24/7, shares a warning from the UN that the world urgently needs more renewable energy as artificial intelligence drives unprecedented ...

In the context of the global energy crisis, renewable clean energy has become an important focus area of the IPEF. As an important part of the IPEF, the renewable energy economy of ASEAN ...

The global energy crisis threatens to throw the transition to renewable power even further off track, the International Renewable Energy Agency has warned in a new report that calls for "radical action"; from ...

Energy crisis renewable

Stalled Transition: Political inertia slows renewable adoption, extending fossil fuel dependence beyond 2040
Energy Crisis: Supply chain disruptions and underinvestment trigger rolling ...

The evidence is clear: when climate commitments are paired with a coordinated policy approach, clean energy expansion is transformative. We make the case for policymakers to set ambitious ...

The report was released by UN Secretary-General António Guterres in a speech which outlined the benefits and actions needed to power the transition globally. The UN report was prepared with the support of UN agencies and partners - ...

Energy crisis renewable

Web: <https://ichipcorp.co.za>

