

The Government of Fiji and the University of the South Pacific (USP) have welcomed the International Court of Justice's (ICJ) advisory opinion on climate change as a historic legal milestone and a major step forward for vulnerable ...

A founding father of the Pacific climate movement on Thursday welcomed an international court's decision on global warming but said he fears for the future of his almost 30 grandchildren on ...

A groundbreaking advisory opinion from the International Court of Justice is setting a new legal framework for addressing climate change injuries, particularly for Pacific Island nations. This ...

Meanwhile, Minister for Climate Change Mosese Bulitavu said Fiji would hold talanoa-style talks with Pacific leaders. Rabuka adds that Fiji is already working with communities on seawalls ...

A recent ruling by the International Court of Justice has ignited discussions about the legal responsibilities nations hold in addressing climate change, particularly concerning the rights of ...

In response, the 2021 Fiji Climate Change Act designates mangrove restoration a national priority. "Humanitarian work is the practical act of safeguarding lives before disaster strikes," said ...

A $1.8million grant made available to Government is aimed at strengthening local efforts to implement the Strategic Implementation Roadmap for Fiji's Climate Change Act. The strategic roadmap with the Ministry of ...

Suva, Fiji - The Government of the Republic of Fiji welcomes the landmark Advisory Opinion delivered by the International Court of Justice (ICJ) in Obligations of States in respect of ...

Facing the dual threats of climate change and dwindling fish populations, the village of Nagigi in Fiji is taking proactive steps to adapt. Women in the community have initiated aquaculture ...

Excerpt/Summary (38 words): This article examines the potential spread of Lyme disease to Fiji, highlighting climate change, vector presence, and public health challenges. It emphasizes ...

The Government of the Republic of Fiji welcomes the landmark Advisory Opinion delivered by the International Court of Justice (ICJ) in Obligations of States in respect of Climate Change. In a powerful affirmation of international law, the ...

With climate change threatening crop cycles and food production across the Pacific, Fiji is taking a proactive stance by strengthening its climate-resilient agriculture programs, supported by ...

Fiji climate change

Fiji's Environment and Climate Change Minister, Mosese Bulitavu, called the decision "a historic step forward". "The law now speaks as clearly as the science: climate inaction has ...

Coastal communities across the Pacific are increasingly recognized as places of priority for climate adaptation. Pacific Island communities are developing and using strategies to adapt ...

The Prime Minister said Fiji stands ready to work with like-minded partners to ensure that the full weight of this Opinion is reflected in global decision-making, including at the 2025 United ...

The program has successfully restored nine hectares of mangroves in Navitilevu Bay, supported by the Fiji Blue Carbon Project. It aims to ultimately restore 200 hectares of mangroves and ...

Fiji climate change

Web: <https://ichipcorp.co.za>

